Rochester Orphan Asylum Burns.

Death List May Reach as High as Forty.

Half a Hundred Others are Variously Injured.

Inmates Jump from Windows and Attendants Throw Out the Helpless Infants.

OCHESTER (N. Y.,) Jan. 8-[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roches ter Orphan Asylum was the scene, shortly after midnight, of fire and panic in which the lives of twenty or more children and at least two of the attendants at the institution were burned or crushed out, and half a hundred persons, most of them little ones, were trampled upon, burned or other wise injured.

Twenty one bodies have been re overed so far, and it is believed the death list may reach forty when all the 140 inmates have been ac-counted for. Of the injured, many are likely to die. When the firemen, who responded to a general alarm, arrived, the inmates were jumping from the windows, and the attendants were throwing helpless infants out of the windows, regardless of where

In the hospital were only two small children and two women attendants. All are believed to have perished. A telephone message was sent to all the hospitals for ambulances, and as fast as they arrived on the scene they were sent back to the hospitals.

When it became known that the fire had extended to the main building, a general alarm was sent in, calling out the entire department. The fire was fought from every available point, but the buildings were doomed. Most of the inmates knew nothing about the fire until aroused by Young and Clark, though one woman stated that she heard an explosion before she smelled smoke. The scenes about the building while the fire was at its height were heartrending in the extreme.

About thirty children were carried into the house of Herman Rehn, a shoe merchant across the street, on Hubbell Park, and as fast as the ambulances arrived the children were removed. Every few minutes a victim would be reported dead.

Miss Comelieux, one of the attendants, was rescued from a thirdstory window by a fireman. When part way down the ladder, the fireman slipped and fell to the ground. Both were terribly injured, though they will recover.

There were 109 children in the asylum at the time and a corps of about thirty nurses and attendants. Sixteen of the dead are at the city morgue, several are at the hospitals, and some were left at Behn's home. The injured consist mostly of children who were more or less overcome by smoke. It is impossible to get the names of the injured at this time.

The hospital building was entirely destroyed and the main building damaged, entailing a total loss of about $30,000. The buildings were heated by steam; and the fire was caused by an explosion of the engine belier.

Lillie Stone, aged 8 years, is fearfully burned about the legs and body and will die.

Kate Cottrell and Blanche Atheson, the latter colored, are believed to be in a dying condition. Both had fearful falls and sustained frightful injuries. But one inmate is dying at the hos-pital, he being a little boy who was-ill at the asylum. Name unknown. John Carey, 3 years old, is at the

The bridges in all directions have been washed out, and damage to the railroad and private property amounts to a considerable fayer. Trains on both road and private property amounts to a considerable figure. Trains on both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fé are running irregularly, or not at all. Railroad bridges across Deep Creek, between Porterville and Visalia, near Giant Oak, were washed down stream this afternoon, making it impossible for the Fresno local and Porterville flyer to get through. At 6 o'clock this morning the levee on St. John River broke, and water rushed to the Santa Fé track, which it cut through, and for a space of sixty feet the roadbed is washed out and water is running through like a mill race, and spreading over the land.

The main residence and business portion of town is shielded in great part from the flood by the Santa Fé tracks, the embankment of which is built several feet above the level of the city. Both the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fé are suffering from washouts, the former sustaining the most damage. The Santa Fé track east of town is undermired in many places, the washouts extending a distance of two or three miles. All south-bound Santa Fé trains will be hung up here today, the north-bound trains being compelled to tie up east south-bound Santa Fe trains will be hung up here today, the north-bound trains being compelled to tie up east of town beyond the washouts. It will take at least twenty-four hours to repair the track. The Southern Facific is running all of its through trains over the west side line.

Passengers arriving here from Oakdale today report that a bridge was washed out on the Sierra Railway last night by freshets, and another bridge was broken.

DAMAGE AROUND EUREKA.

Two county bridges, one a large and long one, were washed out, and arronaing down the St. John River. Tonight a work train went to the break in the Santa Fe road to transfer passengers and baggage from the southbound overland, but discovered that the train had found two bridges washed out on the other side of the break. FOR A BATTLESHIP.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California will be honored by having a first-class battleship named after her, and probably the ship will be built upon the Pacific Coast, if not at San Francisco, then at Seattle. All this was decided today when Representatives Waters and Metcalf went to the Navy Department and had a talk with Secretary Long.

Congressmen Waters and Metcalf pointed out that California did not like that merely a cruiser should be named for her when less important maritime and some inland States are honored by having great battleships bear their name. They presented protests, petitions and resolutions from Californians and California institutions, asking that the name be taken from the cruiser to which it has been proposed that it be given and be conferred upon the battleship. Secretary Long assented and the name California will go upon the fine battleship now authorized to be constructed.

Then, Congressman Waters having accomplished his first purpose, with the aid of Representative Metcalf, asked Secretary Long to name the cruiser after Los Angeles. Secretary Long thought this a neat move, and it tickled him. He declared, however, there were no cruisers unsupplied with names, but that in the next batch of such fighting ships which should be authorized by Congress, he would remember Los Angeles and confer that name upon the cruiser.

In conclusion he drew a brilliant word picture of the commercial future of the United States, declaring that the trade conflict with Europe, already begun, could result only in the commercial and economical supremacy of this country over the entire world. In this industrial conflict he apprehended no danger from a material contest with any nation of the world, but he urged the necessity for a strong and scientifically-organized army and a powerful navy, in order that the United States might be prepared to defend its rights against any possible foe.

"If the House bill is passed in the Senate and becomes a law, it is safe to expect that an agreement can be made with Great Britain as favorable at least to the United States as that contained in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, as amended, after the House bill is enacted. This explanation is not based upon any supposed want of power or of will in that great empire to maintain what she considers a just or advantageous position, nor yet upon her magnanimity, for that we do not ask, but upon the fact that the canal when built will be of incalculable value to all her North and Central American possessions, and that she can never realise these advantages without the consent and assistance of the United States. Neither can Great Britain nor any combination of powers construct and maintain a canal at Fanama without our consent."

Patronage Causes-Delay in the Assembly-Result of Minor Contests.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1

SACRAMENTO, Jan. T.—{Exclusive Dispatch.} The fact that the fight for the Speakership of the Assembly had been decided the night before by the victory of Pendleton removed from the opening of the thirty-fourth assion of the California Legislature today about the only possibility of a lively struggle, and made the proceedings decidedly tame. There were contests for the minor positions, but these had not excited any general interest except among the candidates themselves. There were few spectators, and these were mostly placehunters, of whom there was the usual horde.

at 10 o'clock a.m., than in the session of either of the branches of the Legislature, not because there was the slightest doubt as to what the result would be, but it was not known just what the supporters of Alden Anderson. Pendleton's opponent, for the Speakership, would do. Anderson had given up the fight, but in doing so he openly asserted that he believed he had been jobbed. It was charged by his friends that Gov. Gage, in spite of a promise to keep hands off, had taken up Pendleton's fight within an hour after arriving here Sunday night, and had caused a sufficient number of men pledged to Anderson to go over to the "push" side of the fight to make Pendleton's election certain.

"push" side of the fight to make Pendleton's election certain.
Whether this be true or not, the Anderson men were "sore," and there was some doubt for a time whether they would be bound by the determination of the caucus. They have by no means buried the hatchet, and there may yet be a sequel to the Speakership fight. Anderson, when he gave up the fight, released his supporters from all their pledges to him, and quite a fumber of the weaker ones, probably hoping to secure more at the Assembly pie counter, voted for Pendleton in caucus. There were fifty-seven of the fifty-nine Republican Assemblymen present when the caucus was called to order, and all were fifty-seven of the fifty-nine Republican Assemblymen present when the caucus was called to order, and all doubt was soon removed as to how Anderson's friends would act. There were few formalities. Anderson was not present, hor was McBeth of San Francisco. Pendieton received 35 votes and Anderson 18: Pendleton himself not voting. W. C. Of course the caucus settled the whole question of organization, and there was little interest in the routine proceedings of the Assembly after the caucus had adjourned.

NO CONTEST IN SENATE. In the Senate there was no contest. The organization of that body was per-fected, as had been predicted, by the re-election of all the old officers. The caucus was only for the purpose of discussing questions of patronage. The first little flurry occurred in the afternoon when the Democratic minority—there are but six of them—demanded a stenographer for their own particular use. Several of the Republicans objected, but the plea that that was all they wanted won their fight, and they got their man. If the strict terms of the resolution on which he was elected are followed he will I ave to serve only

Late in the afternoon the Senate sen the formal notice to the Governor that it was ready to receive any communications which he desired to transmit. The reply came back that the Governor will send his message to the Legislature tomorrow.

The message is said to be one of the most voluminous ever prepared by a California executive. It will contain nearly 25,000 words, and will deal particularly with matters of finance. Economy will be the watchword which the Governor will give the Legislature. lovernor will give th Legislature. He will also have someti...ng to say about irrigation matters, which he considers important, now that such an effort is being made to induce the general government to aid in the matter.

south Hollos Its Own.

In the matter of patronage the southern end of the State has been holding its own. Only the Senate has completed organization and the members have apportioned the appointments which have been assigned to them. The Assembly will perfect organization tomorrow, and the members will then know whom they will be able to place. Incomplete as is the status in the Assembly, the South now has the lion's share of the offices. The Speaker is a Los Angeles man. The chief clerk is Clio Lioyd of Santa Barbara, and R. Q. Wickham of Los Angeles has been elected minute clerk. The position of sergeant-at-arms went again to San Francisco. W. O. Banks being relected. The patronage in the Assembly last session was $4.50 per day per member, but it has been increased to $3. The Southern California members have pooled issues in the distribution of patronage. At a meeting this morning a count of noses showed that they had places which pay in the aggregate about $4, and they have since been trying to divide this so that the greatest number of places may be secured for their constituents.

This does not include the places which Speaker Pendleton has at his SOUTH HOLDS ITS OWN.

region known as "the Panhandle," lying north of the 46th parallel of north latitude, which is the southern boundary of Washington. This would include Kootenal, Shoshone, Latah and Nez Perce and part of Idaho county, as well as most of the rich Clearwater gold fields.

The plan is received with enthusiasm argued that Southern Idaho, would not consent because of the lack of railway the State, and especially because of the connection between the two parts of the State, and especially because of the great expense resulting from the min-ing riots in the Coeur d'Alene district and two years of martial law.

BURNING OF NEGROES.

Prof. Hart of Harvard Says That He Has Never Advocated That Form of Punishment.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. BOSTON, Jan. 7.-Prof. Albert B. Hart, of Harvard, in explanation of his specch delivered recently at Detroit, Mich., said:

"The statement that I advocated burning at the stake as a legal penalty for negro crimes comes from a wrong impression of my views. I never made such an assertion. My opinion is exactly the opposite.

"I believe that lynchings are a return to the cruelities of mediaeval times. Burning at the stake is not a deterrent of crime, but a brutalizing of the whole population, white and black. And the South shows its horror of it by refusing to-make it legis!.

"If the yeople of the South or any community demand the burning at the stake of negroes as a penalty for committing horrible crimes, the State should make burning the legal penalty."

The first annual meeting of the association was held at the home of the president, Rev. U. Gregory, January 5, 1901. The report of the president showed that he had met with considerable success in his efforts to interest the people of Southern California in this deserving institution. The cash receipts for the year amounted to $3415.84; expenditures, $3405.84. Fifty boys have been received, and nearly half of them placed in good homes, or are now in the "home." forming fistula, both very difficult to cure.

Most pile cures are simple ointments or salves, which relieve temporarily but are useless as far as making a cure is concerned.

The safest remedy for any form of piles, whether itching or protruding, is the Pyramid Pile Cure, because free from cocaine and opiates. It is in suppository form to be used at night, and painless and causes no detention from daily occupation, and the many cures made by it have made it famous in every corner of the United States and Canada and any druggist will tell you it enjoys a greater demand and populatity than any pile remedy ever placed on the market.

Mr. James Kenton of Memphis, Tenn., says: "I suffered from liching piles for two years, and found nothing that would relieve me permanently; not even mercurial ointment seemed to reach my case. But a fifty cent box of the Pyramid Pile Cure, which I bought at my druggist's, cured me entirely, and for months past I have had no return of the disease."

Mrs. Wm. Kenmore of South Omaha, writes: "I suffered torture from protrading piles for a large part of my life and had long since given up any hope of cure, as I dared not risk an operation and could not afford the expense any way. I had often read advertisements about the Pyramid Pile Cure, but never placed confidence in patent medicines, but I tried the Pyramid in sheer desperation, and was delighted and surprised to receive marked relief and benefit from the first few applications. It took five fifty-cent boxes to cure me completely, and no one can appreciate my feeling of gratitude who has not suffered as I have."

For any case of itching, protruding or bleeding piles the Pyramid is a cer-tain, absolutely safe remedy.

Los Angeles Ebell.

Los Angeles Ebell.

The tourist section of the Ebell Society, under the curatorship of Mrs. Clarence P. Bartlett, held its usual semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. The study of modern Rome was begun. Mrs. Sydney J. Parsons addressed the section on the topography of the city, and with the aid of maps and views, guided her hearers along the principal streets, to gardens, paiaces, churches, art gallerles and other places of interest. Hawthorne's description of the Pincian Hill was read by Mrs. Vinyard.

Mrs. Chapin's lecture to the current events section of the Ebell was well attended. The important political events, national and international, of the past fortnight were reviewed by Mrs. Chapin, and some questions of the day debated under her leadership; as, for instance: "Is the College Graduate Impractical?" "Which One of the Arts Made the Greatest Progress during the Ninetcenth Century?" "Is the Prosperity of the Nation Favorable or Unfavorable do Morality?" "Is Kissing an Evil, & Danger to Morality?"

QUICK CAPTURE.

Four Young Thieves Arrested on Sunday Confess to Having Committed Two Burglaries Saturday Night. The Los Angeles detective depart-ment has made a capture of four burglars, and after the recovery of the stolen property the thieves have made a confession of their crime and how they went at it. The four thieves are they went at it. The four thieves are young fellows, named John Carter, Charles Bird, Henry Corson and O. C. Nemitz, and all of them reached his city Friday night, the officers say. The first two were arrested by Capt. Bradish and Detectives Hawley and Benedict and the other two by Policeman Arguello.

ish and Detectives Hawley and Benadict and the other two by Policeman Arguello.

Last Saturday night Joseph Back's meat market at No. 1692 North Main street and Mrs. Johnson's store at No. 258 North Avenue Twenty were broken into. An old pistol and $3 in money were taken from the meat market and some clgars, tobacco and $3 from the store, the money drawers in both places having been pried open.

Sunday afternoon Detectives Bradish, Hawley and Benedict began work on the cases and late that evening Bradish and Hawley went to the Mission on San Fernando street to look for the thleves. Nea rthe entrance they espied three or four young men and arrested two of them on suspicion. There was a great commotion in the Mission when it was known that two of its boarders had been "pinched." The detectives believed there were two of the money licated in the burglaries, and told Policeman Arguello to watch all outgoing freight trains for any suspicious men. He accordingly arrested two men late Sunday night as they were trying to leave town on a freight train. One of these was later released. He also picked up Nemitz the same night at Main and Redondo streets.

Yesterday afternoon the detectives located the revolver and the tobacco that had been stolen and when confronted with the evidence against them the four men confessed to the burglary of the market and the store.

KODAKS, AT MUNSEY'S,

Multiply the area of the base by the perpendicular height. It will be seen that the rules for the oblique solids are the same as those for the rectangular solids, if by height is always understood perpendicular height.

9. To find the volume of a pyramid we multiply the area of the biase by one-balf the perpendicular height.

We first find the perpendicular height of the pyramid and then the area of the triangle, BCD; then multiply the area of the triangle by one-half the perpendicular height.

The area of such a figure can be found to any required degree of approximation by marking out the sides into short straight lengths, and then dividing into friangles, as shown, and finding the area of each triangle.

The specific gravity of any substance is the ratio of the weight of any volume of that substance to the weight of an equal volume of water.

By the absolute density (or simply the density) of a substance we mean the mass of unit volume of it; for example, the aumber of pounds in a cubic foot of it. By relative density we mean the ratio of its density to that of some standard substance, or its heaviness as compared with the standard substance, bulk for bulk. When water is taken as the standard substance, relative Crowded Cars.

Crowded Cars.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The question as to the best remedy for the overcrowding of electric cars on the suburban and other lines, is not unimportant. In one view of the matter, almost everybody might be thought to be pleased with the present state of affairs; the men who rise from their seats to present them to ladies, because it gives them an opportunity to show their gallantry; the ladies who accept them, and most all of the owners of the railways, because they are relieved of the expense of running cars enough to accommodate their passengers. Still, there are serious objections to this peculiarly American arrangement. Merely to prohibit the companies by law, as has been proposed, from collecting fare from any passenger to whom they did not furnish a seat, would not operate as a remedy, because the people would still crowd into the cars and pay their fares voluntarily, rather than walk or wait. The companies might be forbidden to allow more passengers than could be seated to enter the cars, thus carrying out the rule which is, or at least used to be, resolutely enforced by the conductors in Paris, and public sentiment ought to sustain such a law, though perhaps it would not, in this country. The need of some remedy is becoming more and more evident. The papers have recently reported a case in court, which arose from a fight which occurred in a car as a result of its crowded condition, and on New Year's day a brutal fight in which blood was drawn freely, making women and girls hysterical, took place on a Pasadena car. Is it not time for a change?

"You must toll the bell for me."

"Look 'ere, your honor," answered the bell-ringer roused by his astonishment to some degree of boldness, and starting to his feet, "Old Ben has eighty winters upon his crown; and his span o' life 'as nearly run; and it ill becums the like o' your honor to take advantage of 'im this fashion. I om paid, your honor, to do this service, and hope you'll let me start the tollin', for it's only a minute afore the hour, now, and I'm late."

And he unsteadily moved forward a pace. "See, your honor," he continued holding out his watch, "It's on the dot now!"

"Ring the passing bell," said the fee.

"Ring the passing bell." said the figure sternly; "and between the strokes I will give thee my history."

"Bong!" rang the deep voice of the tenor bell over the snow to the listening ears at the hall and in the village of Fountaindale.

"This day, 400 years ago at midnight," began the specter in slow and measured utterance, that curdled the blood of his hearer. "I died. This church was founded by me in part explation of a fierce and unnatural murder," and the voice shook, "of my bride of threescore short days—the fairest rose that decked the Court of Avragon."

"Dong!"

A Scotch clergyman named Forsythe began the study of firearms with the view of making improvements. For over a century scarcely a change had been made in this absolutely essential been made in this absolutely essential branch of warfare, though the roll of the drum in the marching armies had echoed and reëchoed around the world during that time. The flintlock musket had remained the same since the middle of the seventeenth century. Forsythe hit upon the use of fulminating powder for priming, an invention which, though it slumbered until 1834, was destined to cause a complete revolution in the mechanism of firearms. He obtained a patent in 1807.

that there was an unknown man in the West (Andrew Jackson) who would do credit to a commission in the army, Just at that time Jackson offered his services and those of 2,500 volunteers. The offer was accepted, and as a result one of the most immorable of British defeats and American victories was recorded at New Orleans.

"Stand by your guns." Don't wasts your ammunition! See that every shot tells! Let us finish the business today;" were the inspiring words of Jackson as he passed along the lines at New Orleans.

When Jackson was a candidate for the Presidency, Daniel Webster spent some days at Monticello, the home of Jefferson. Webster represents Jefferson as saying of Jackson: "I feel much alarmed at the prospect of seeing Gen. Jackson President, He is one of the most unfit men I know ef for such a place. He has very little respect for law or Constitutions, and is, in fact, an able military chief. His passions are terrible. When I was President of the Senate he was Senator, and he could never speak on account of the rashness of his feelings. I have seen him attempt it repeatedly, and as often choke with rage. His passions are, no doubt, cooler now. He has been much tried since I knew him; but he is a dangerous man."

Parton in his "Life of Jackson," says: "His ignorance of law, history, politics, science—of everything which he who governs a country ought to know—was extreme. Mr. Trist remembers hearing a member of the General's family say that Gen. Jackson did not believe the world was round. His ignorance was as a wall round about him, high and impenetrable. He was imprisoned in his ignorance, and sometimes raged around his little dim enclosure like a tiger in his den."

His love for his wife was intense. In the closing years of his life he frequently sald: "Heaven will be no heaven to me if I do not meet my wife there."

Chief Justice Taney paid the following beautiful tribute to Jackson's memory: "The whole civilized world already knows how bountfully he was endowed by Providence with those gifts which qua

But those only who were around him inhoure of anxious deliberation, when great and mighty interests were at stake, and who were with him in the retired scenes of domestic life, in the midst of his family and friends, can fully appreciate his innate love of justice, his hatred of oppression in every shape if could assume, his magnanimity, his entire freedom from any feeling of personal hostility to his political opponents and his constant and unvarying kindness and gentleness to his friends."

This statement was made in a dispatch to the Chicago Record of December 29. The dispate coes on to say that N. In one of these experiments, in the presence of a number of persons in-terested in scientific progress, "he shocked a cat to death, and when the heart of the feline had long since ceased to beat, Mr. Schellinger reversed the current of electricity, and though they were very feeble at first. Within two hours after the cat had been pronounced dead it had been re-stored to the fullness of life and vigor and was as playful as ever."

It is alleged, further, that the current was kept turned on "until there tality." An examination of the animal by several physicians present resulted in a unanimous verdict that life was extinct. "In five minutes more an started, and in the course of a few seconds the heart action commen Electrician Schellinger expresses the opinion, as deduced from his experiments, that "any person who has been killed by an electric shock can be refollowed" on the lines adopted by him. All this is very far from conclusive.

Only a long series of experiments, conducted under rigid scientific conditions, could establish the alleged facts the physicians present at Mr. Scheilinger's experiment pronounced the animal dead, in that particular case, is not conclusive. It is the long-talked-of Orpheum Road Show, and is a show for a management to be proud of. It is complete and it is new—save about three or four jokes that smell to a silent house. But they'll be cut out. The first musical number on the bill last night was Frankenstein's "Hawalian Blend," followed by William Weston and Ella Herbert, who did musical novelties that were novelties. The audience was greatly pleased with "The Tramp and the Lady." Truly Shattuck is on the bill again this week, with new song selctions—and she's just Truly in her old triumphs.

Perhaps the most refined turn on the bill is Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dâyne, his pretty wife, in his own comedy. "The Key of C." It's fine. It is a take-off on a down-East farmer's visit to New Yorke and it has a laugh in every turn.

Jack Norworth, who is a black-face comedian calling himself "the jailbird coon," finally worked a lot of hearty laughs out of the house.

The women who have been following our advertising since New Years have been saving money. This sale of All-Overs is the eighth and strongest offering of the New Year. Things to Consider Carefully.

In buying furniture one should first consider beauty. The artistic possibilities of our furniture are shown in our designs, the decerations are always in good taste, the finish is superior. Our variety is by far the largest.

Then durability. Only reliable and selected materials are used. Workmanship is of the best.

Finally price. Being the largest dealers in the Southwest, our prices are unusally low on all grades. Furniture from here is always satisfactory.

other experiment in the endeavor to overcome water that is flooding the oil sand in that vicinity. Casing out has failed to do the business, and, a few days ago, a well was hitched to the beam and pumping started at double stroke. For twenty hours water poured from the tubing, but shortly afterward oil began to appear. The rapid pumping was kept up until pure oil came from the pipe. For the time being the water was overcome, but after a brief shutdown it appeared again in great quantities. The oil men believe, however, that if rapid pumping is kept up continuously, the rich stratum now useless beneath the water veln, can be made to yield a quantity of oil that will more than double the present production.

The Liberty Oil Company at Western will more than double the present production.

The Liberty Oil Company, at Western avenue, is arranging to try another method for excluding the water. As the oil sand above the artesian vein is thin in comparison with that which lies beneath, the drillers will try for the lower stratum. They have, therefore, plugged the hole between the water vein and oil stratum below. The tubing will be inserted through a hole in the plug, and the lower oil pumped. The second and measures 130 feet in this territory, and the successful tapping of the stratum means a great deal to operators in the valley.

Local rigs were shut down Sunday by reason of the rain, and did not start to work until last evening.

The well of the Southern Consolidated Oil Company is nearing completion on Rockwood street. From here the rig will be moved to Metcalf street, where a well will be drilled for Northern Consolidated No. 1.

The gas strata are generally above the formation carrying the oil, and in the defilling of oil wells they are cut off by the casings; consequently no use is made of the material at present, the gas being considered a drawback to an oil well unless the two substances are found in conjunction.

The Los Angeles Times is now delivered to any part of the Kern River oil field, at regular subscription rates. The Wilson Company of Los Angeles, which is operating also in the Kern River field, has finished a well on section 4, 29, 28, that is deemed to be as good as any other in the whole district. It is going at the rate of 500 barrels, froth deducted.

In the remote Devil's Den district, in the northwestern part of this county, at the beginning of the year, the shotogen is reported to have played an important role in protecting locations. No one was hurt, but a great many were deterred from taking what did not belong to them.

The Monarch, No. 1, on 2, 11, 23, was baled yesterday for twelve hours, and yielded over 200 barrels of oil. It will be put on the beam.

At its first annual meeting, the Pittsburgh Company reflected its old officers. The Pittsburgh is drilling a well on its own account, and has leased lands to four other companies, which are either drilling or preparing to do so. The first product was a two-ton batch of asphaltum, which was shipped to Visalia.

FULLERTON FIELD

THE OPERATORS' DOINGS.
FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—[Regular Correspondence.] The Puente Oil Company has strucg good indications on its new well on the Grazida lease, and has its rig up ready for beginning the new well near the shops. Nearly all the old wells of this company's lease are good producers, many of them having been on the pump day and night for over ten years. The output for years has averaged from 9000 to 1100 barrels a month, all high-gravity oil. There are twenty-four families on the lease owning houses, each of which is supplied with gas for lighting and cooking purposes free of charge. The company will soon have two new wells ready for THE OPERATORS' DOINGS.

kept showing the number of barrels produced since the first well was drilled in the State, the figures are within a few barrels of being correct. The oli pumped and flowed from the Indiana wells during the past nine years amounts to 57,858,550 barrels. At an average of 60 cents per barrel this amounts to the enormous sum of 334,715,130, which has been paid to the operator and farmer by the various pipe lines that handle crude oil, and the shipping of fuel oil by tank cars. This represents only the oil end of it, to say nothing of the great ameunt of cash paid by consumers to the network of gas lines throughout the State. Very little of the Indiana product remains in the mammoth storage tanks, as the Indiana pipe line has for the past year drawn out over 10,000,000 barrels.

The year of 1900 proved the most profitable in this State of any year since the first well was drilled at Terre Haute, a great many years ago. More oil was produced in 1895, but the prices were not as good, and the operators did not realize as much as they did last year.

The runs and shipments of oil by the 159 barrels, for which the average price was nearly 94 cents per barrel, at the wells. The producers received for the entire output of the year, $5.281,624.94 hearly $1,000,000 of this went to the farmers of the oil country as royalty. WORKERS WILL BE PAID IN CASH, AS THEY GO ALONG, for every new subscriber they secure, and in addition will have a chance at winning one or more of the valuable prizes enumerated below.

PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED, not alone to those sending the largest number of subscriptions, but to those sending the largest number in proportion to the population of the town or city in which they work. The person living in the small town has just as good a chance to win a large prize as the person living in the city.

IN ORDER that all persons competing for these prizes may have an equal chance, whether they live in a small town or a large one, the cities and towns in which we expect subscribers in large numbers have been divided into five classes, according to population. Population and awards will be decided by the census of 1900 as far as the count is completed by July 1, 1901. The population of towns not reported by that time, if there are any, will be decided by the latest edition of Bradstreet's.

AS EXPLAINED ABOVE, every person who enters this contest has the opportunity to win several prizes in every class, by taking subscriptions in other towns after they have completed the work in their own.

FURTHERMORE, the aggregate number of subscriptions taken by each in the various towns will be credited to him or by contestants at any point on the Pacific Slope will be counted into the result.

FURTHERMORE, the aggregate number of subscriptions taken by each in the various towns will be credited to him or her in the general count, thus greatly increasing his or her chance of winning one of the large general prizes.

THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE for The Daily Times (seven papers a week and including the Sunday Magazine—unrivaled by any similar publication in America) is 75 cents per month or $9.00 per year, and we will under no circumstances suffer the price to be reduced to any subscriber. But we are willing, during this contest, as partial remuneration for the trouble and expense they will be to, to allow contestants 10 cents for each prepaid monthly subscription they shall send in—provided the subscriber has not previously been taking the paper regularly—and a proportionate amount if the subscription is for a longer period than one month—subject, of course, to the same provision.

THE ADVANCE SUBSCRIPTION, or "renewal," of an old subscriber will count just the same in the contest for prizes as if the subscriber were a brand new one, but commissions, it must be clearly understood, will not be paid on this class of subscriptions. It is only when the prepayment is for a bona fide new subscriber that the 10 cents per month can be claimed. To claim it willfully in violation of this clear stipulation will disqualify the claimant for any further participation in the contest.

FIRST ORDERS may be either renewals or new subscriptions, or both—it is immaterial. But they must aggregate in months as many as ten. Whether one man subscribes for ten months or ten men for one month each is all the same. It is the number of months that counts. But for each month that is a renewal 75 cents must be sent, and for each month that represents a bona fide new subscriber 65 cents. Second and subsequent orders may be for any number the sender finds PAYMENTS MONTHLY. A contract with an old subscriber, on a blank form that we will furnish, that he will continue taking and paying for the paper monthly for a specified time, will be accepted as a subscription for the number of months specified in the contract. A similar contract with a new subscriber will be accepted, but in neither of these cases will any commission be allowed. The subscriptions count merely in the competition for prizes.

IT IS NOT NECESSARY that the person going to work should notify us in advance that he or she intends to enter the contest. All we require is that when sending in the first order of ten or more subscribers it should be stated that the subscriptions are to apply on our offer. Order blanks and envelopes will then be provided, for the agent's convenience.

THIS CONTEST is exclusively for people not otherwise connected with The Times; and employees and attaches of the paper, and especially carriers, distributers and route men, are explicitly prohibited from having any lot or part in its benefits, either directly or indirectly. They may answer proper questions and assist contestants in their work to the extent of advising them in cases of doubt, but they must not personally profit by the result. No evasion of this just and equitable

THE QUESTION MIGHT BE ASKED: "May I get others to help me in securing subscriptions?" Our answer would be: "Certainly, get just as many people-men, women or children-to help you as you can; the more the better. We will credit you with all the prepaid subscriptions you send in, no matter by whom they were procured:

Take Notice—This contest is exclusively for Women, and Boys and Girls under 16 years of age.

The count will be kept in months; a yearly subscription counting 12 months, a half-year 6 months, and so on.

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

The grievous affair is now all over and the feed-hunters are either banking in clover or left without succor in the desert wild. It all happened yesterday afternoon, and when the Councilmen got started the ceremony was soon concluded. There was no reflection in their faces of the troubles that have made life anything but a dream since the caucus season began. There came near being several personal en-counters between two of the members before the personnel of the Police Com-mission was settled by the seven solid Republicans.

Republicans.

All the Councilmen were present to hear the reading of the returns, with the exception of Mr. Lauder, who sent word that he was sick at his home with the grippe. Mr. Lauder did not get all that he wanted in those caucuses but, as they say in novels, that is an other story.

POLICE COMMISSION.

The membership of the Police Commission was the first to be announced. It did not differ, and neither did any of the other appointments made, from the announcement printed in last Sunday's Times. James A. Keeney of the Fifth Ward was named by Mr. Bowen. Mr. Keeney is a builder, and was formerly a member of the firm of Johnston & Keeney. He returned not long ago from a pleasure trip to Europe, during which he made several long excursions on the continent and visited the Paris Exposition. He was interested in the municipal struggle in the Fifth Ward, and was the leader of the Wincup forces that lost the POLICE COMMISSION

Mr. Walker is a cigar merchant. S. R. Thorpe, a retired farmer living in the First Ward, is the fourth member of the commission. He was named by Mr. Pierce.

FIRE COMMISSION. Jacob Kuhrts, the stand-by of the fire department, is the only commissioner to be honored with return to the position he has beld. He was named by Mr. Melain. He is a resident of

PARK COMMISSION.
On the Park Commission Mr. Pierce named James Russell, a retired groceryman of the First Ward. Dr. C. B. Dixon of the Fifth Ward was named by Mr. Bowen; M. J. McGarry, an attorney of the Sixth Ward, was presented by Mr. Allen; on behalf of Mr. Lauder, Mr. Pierce named J. C. Cribb of the Seventh Ward. Mr. Cribb was a candidate for County Supervisor before the last Republican County Convention. PARK COMMISSION.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS.

Dr. Clarence W. Pierce, formerly of the California Hospital, was named for police surgeon by Mr. Bowen for Mr. Lauder. Dr. Pierce is now entering on his second year's practice of medicine, having graduated about two years ago from the local College of Medicine.

B. T. Tilden was named for superintendent of the outfall sewer by Mr. Bowen. Mr. Tilden has served as a deputy in the office of the City As Collector. He is a resident of the Fifth Ward, and formerly belonged to the firm of Tilden & Van Aken, engaged in the grocery business.

for your consideration a few suggettions.

"The growth of our city in the last two decades has been marvelous, and with each year of enlargement have come many substantial public improvements. Los Angeles enters the new century with a population of more than a hundred thousand people and with a future outlook as bright as any city of the West.

"The city's needs are so many that its limited income is inadequate to the requirements, but nevertheless much can be accomplished even with the revenues now available. As public servants we should not lose sight of the fact that economy in conducting the public business intrusted to our care is absolutely necessary. Extravagant expenditure of the public moneys is alse fatal to successful government as is like folly in the conduct of private enterprises. In attending to municipal business we must adopt the same conservative and cautous principles used by us in our private transactions.

"We should at all times exercise the greatest foresight in preparing for the future, and should favor a liberal policy in making appropriations for improvements from which the city will reap a rich harvest in later years. It will be wise to consider in advance the demands that are sure to confront our rapidly-growing city in a few years, and some of the suggestions which I now submit to you are intended to ald in laying a secure foundation for what is to come.

WATER PROBLEMS.

"WATER PROBLEMS.

"The problem of securing a waterworks system, fitted to supply the municipality and all of its inhabitants with good water for all purposes, to be owned and operated by the city, has been of paramount importance to the citizens of Los Angeles for many years past, and is now the question of chief interest to the people. The sentiment is unanimous that the city should possess and control its own water-supply equipment. How shall this end so universally desired be attained?

"Although it has been many months since the water bonds were issued and offered for sale, they have not yet been disposed of, because of the attacks made on their legality. In the meantime we are being supplied by this Los Angeles City Water Company, and are paying exorbitant rates for our own water. The expense attending the water litigation is large, and the delay caused thereby is costing the water users and taxpayers of this city many hundred thousand dollars each year it

Although the reading of messages and the perfecting of the organization occupied the new Council most of the day, a little time was found to devote to municipal affairs. This step will doubtless meet with approval from all mer-was made to defraud Brunold's creditors.

The firm went bankrupt last March.
On July 12, 1899, Brunold owned property in this city in the Weisendanger tract and at that time conveyed it to his wife, plaintiff says, without consideration with intent to defraud his creditors and prevent them from realising anything from him on account of indebtedness due them. It is alleged that he was and still is a creditor of the Los Angeles National Bank in $100, and of the First National Bank of Los Angeles in $800. Wherefore plaintiff asks that the deed be set aside.

Then the court began a curtain lecture that soon brought the prisoner to tears.

"I say, Martin," sald Judge Smith, sharply, "what d'ye mean by this sort o' thing? I can't understand it. How do you make your living?"

"By workin" sald Martin, plaintively, as if haif ashamed of it; then he spruced up and said he was a dishwasher by occupation and named haif a dosen places where he had bathed the plates.

"Does anybody know anything about this man?" asked the court, looking round the room.

A police officer hopped up obediently and began:

"Yes, Your Honor, he's been around town for a year or more and we've had him in the City Jail a dozen times for drunkenness. And—"

"Taint so." said Martin, savagely: "only once for drunkenness."

The police officer sank into his chair in despair.

"Oh, stand up, my friend," said Judge Smith, "don't be so easily discouraged."

The spectators laughed.

"Is this man a hobo?"

"Tm no hobo." answered Martin, shuddering with indignation at the question, and the tears began to flow. The police officer hardly thought the defendant could be classed in with the hobos.

"Well," said the Judge, coaxingly, "I think it will do you good to go to the penitentiary, Martin."

Martin couldn't see it that way and wept harder than ever.

"Yes," continued the court, indulgently, "go to the penitentiary, get your face washed and some good grub, and when you come out you'll feel like a different man. It appears to me that you have kind of lost hope; cheer up and when you are free again, make something of yourself. Two years at Folsem."

As Martin limped away, it occurred to him that a bit of vengeance would to be a sure of the penitentiary and the something of yourself. Two years at Folsem."

"He had been actively engaged in the practice of his profession up to the evening before his death. He left his office at the usual hour on the evening of December 31, 1800, went to his home, and later in the evening, with his wife and family, accepted the invitation of a neighbor and friend to watch the departure of the mineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth.

"The meeting at the friend's house was a loyous one—there was music and song and old memories were revived. The judge, being called upon, made a speech, at the close of which he feelingly sroke of the many friends who had crossed the River of Life and had forever disappeared within the Halls of Silence and Death.

Andrew wept coplously ere he departed.

"I find that this man's offense was burgiary in the second degree, having been committed in the daytime," said Judge Smith, after Andrew, who is a middle-aged foreigner, had come forth with a plea of guilty.

Andrew seemed confident that his sudden spasm of virtue in "fessing up" to the judge was somehow going to keep him out of the State's prison. Then the court began a curtain leeture that soon brought the prisoner to tears.

"I say, Martin," said Judge Smith, sharply, "what d'ye mean by this sort o' thing? I can't understand it. How do you make your living?"

"By workin'" said Martin, plaintively, as if haif ashamed of it; then he spruced up and said he was a dishusable by occupation and named haif a dozen places where he had bathed the plates.

JUDGE TRASK'S OPINION. Judge Trask handed down an opinion yesterday involving the payment of street improvements, which is of in-Donegan et al., giving judgment to plaintiffs.

Certain street improvements were made, for the cost of which bonds were issued. One of these bonds was issued for the improvement of the lot in controversy. Default having been made in the payments required by this bond, the lot was sold to the defendant, Donegan. No redemption was made or attempted, and a deed was executed to the purchaser. By virtue of these proceedings and of the deed, Donegan claimed to be the owner of the lot. Plaintiffs, however, contended that the proceedings taken for this street work were invalid; that the attempted sale, the certificate of sale and the deed were and are each void.

In giving judgment to plaintiffs, Judge Trask says: "It is unfortunate that a contractor, who has honestly done the work of improving a street, must fail to receive compensation, because officials have failed to perform their duties properly. The remedy for this, however, is not with the courts."

[POLICE AND JUSTICE COURTS.] DISTINCTION BETWEEN

WIFE GUILTY OF LARCENY-HUS-BAND RELEASED.

Man With Many Names Charged With Drunkenness, but is Released Petty Larceny Fails to Effect

Mercy and justice were queerly intermixed in the case of Robert and Rose Pompey, man and wife, who were on trial before Justice Austin yesterday on a charge of petty larceny. The husband was released as innocent of the offense, while the wife was convicted. The complaining witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hansley. They alleged that about August 15 the defendants purloined 115 and numerous articles of personal property, including bedding, pillows and several ornaments. In vain Mrs. Pompey declared that the articles were found in a Thirty-ninth-street house, into which she moved. She described clearly how she unearthed the property, piece by piece, with her broom as she cleaned the new abode. Justice Austin could not see it in that light, however. He will sentence the woman at 11 o'cleck today..

Said He Was Drunk.

Said He Was Drunk.

When H. Burton was arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday afternoon on a charge of having been drunk on New Year's day, nearly a score of witnesses testified that he had not drunk more than eight Tom and Jerrys in commemoration of the dawning of a new century, and that he was sober when taken to the Police Station in the patrol wagon. Burton was a witness at a Main-street poker-joint row the last night of the old year, and according to his own testimony he remained at the joint and on the streets all night and the next day until arrested. Deputy Constable Lewis endeavored to ascertain his name that he might be made a witness in the case resulting from the row, and Burton favored the officer with a different name each time he was approached. On the theory that one who does not know his name is intoxicated. Lewis arrested the man of many allases, but so many persons testified that Burton was sober that Justice Austin discharged him.

J. C. Douglas and Tony George, who engaged in a brawl in Spencer's poker rooms on Main street the night of December 31, were each fined 310, although they asserted that they were not in a fight.

Charles Friedenberg, a youngster who has a violent objection to obeying the curriew ordinance, appeared before Judge Austin yesterday. Charlie scouted the idea that he is a bad boy. He was so certain of being good that the court imposed a sentence of 315, but suspended it during good behavior. Frank Dean, who was before Judge Austin charged with carrying concéaled weapons, was given his choice between paying 120 or serving twenty days. He went downstairs to deliberate on the folly of hiding his means of defense.

REVENUE COLLECTIONS. The monthly statement of the collections of internal revenue shows that during November the total receipts were $25,344,285, an increase as compared with November last year of $886,861. The receipts from the several sources of revenue are given as follows: Spirits, $10,750,230; increase, $738,144. Tobacco, $4,905,067; decrease, $205,209. Fermented fiquors, $5,447,787; increase, $186,063. Oleomargarine, $223,-627; decrease, $20,532. Special taxes not elsewhere enumerated, $36,374; decrease, $11,097. Miscellaneous, $3,966,-109; increase, $209,477. For the last five months the total receipts were $121,279,787, an increase over the corresponding period last year of $3,718,-765. REVENUE COLLECTIONS.

HOG STICKING. The Cincinnati Price Current says Current offerings of hogs have been reduced but are still of fairly liberal mumbers. Total Western packing $40,000, compared with 665,000 the preceding week, and 575,000 two weeks ago. For corresponding time last year the number was $15,000, and two years ago $10,000. From November 1 the total is 4,355,000, against 4,110,000 a year ago, and 5,010,000 two years ago. The quality is good. Near the end of the week prices were sharply advanced, and the average at the close is 20 cents per 100 pounds higher than a week ago, and 75 cents higher than a year ago.

"The recent low supplies of lard in sight served to encourage an effort to manipulate the market, and December prices at Chicago were advanced under such conditions, but it is now looking as if the plan for a squeeze is not to be such a success as has been hoped for. The manipulation has served to disturb for the time being the ordinary trade in the article, and to encourage an enlarged production, which later on will have its influence in readjustment of market values. There is comparative quietude in the trade in meats, and the market closes somewhat easier than a week ago at Chicago. The export clearances of pretrade in meats, and the market closes somewhat easier than a week ago at Chicago. The export clearances of product for the week were liberal of lard, somewhat in excess of corresponding time last year, and were fairly large of meats, considerably exceeding last year in comparison.

The present indications are that the Western commercial killing of hogs for the year 1900 will be approximately 22,750,000 in number, which compares with other years for a period of ten year as follows, according to statistics of the Cincianati Price Current:

For the past five years the annual average has been 20,870,000 hogs, compared with 14,110,000 as the average for the preceding period of five years, and 10,730,000 as the average for the like period next previously. These comparisons reflect the remarkable growth of the hog-producing incustry in this country within a comparatively short period."

DARING HOLD-UPS OF STATION OF STATION AGENTS.

CHICAGO'S ELEVATED ROADS THE SCENES OF ACTION.

Heads of the Corporations Forced to Take Steps to Suppress the Robbers-Porters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dis-patch.] No less than eight daring hold-ups of station agents of Chicago elevated railroads in the past week elevated railroads in the past week caused such consternation among railroad men as to necessitate arming all station hands. The heads of four elevated roads have exchanged views on this subject within the past forty-eight hours, and in conjunction with Chief Kipley have taken steps to check the robbing of station agents that has become so common during the week. The method of blocking the work of the highwaymen includes not only the removal of temptation by regular and frequent collection of receipts, night and morning, but also the arming of the agents and the introduction of poand morning, but also the arming of the agents and the introduction of po-lice officers into the outlying stations disguised as porters and attendants. The annual parish meeting of the Universalist Church was held this evening, and included a basket lunch, the election of a board of trustees and the submission of reports by the pastor and the officers of the church. The following trustees were elected: J. D. Gaylord, John Wadsworth, Frank S. Daggett, Hiram W. Wadsworth, M. E. Wood, Mrs. Frank Jones, Harry Geohegan and Fred R. Harris. THE RAINSTORM.

Between 2 and 3 inches of rain fell in Pasadena from the beginning of the storm Friday evening until this morning, when the clouds broke and the sun came out for a short time. Thomas Neimes's California-street gauge registered 2.22 inches at the close of the storm, while other instruments about the city recorded as high as 2.73 inches. The rainfall was steady and soaking, no torrents rushing through the streets as was the case in the last storm. Nevertheless, a good-sized stream is flowing in the Arroyo, the result of heavy rains in the mountains. On Mt. Wilson it is reported that 3 inches of rain fell last night, while the total for the storm was 6.8 inches. During the last storm 20 inches fell at Martin's Camp.

RHEUMATISM

As experience stands, the most promising way to treat an old settled rheumatism is: to set up the general health.

Whatever makes health, in other respects, is good for rheumatism.

We don't say it will cure it. Sometimes it does; sometimes it don't.

Your chance is better with Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil than with anything else now

By and by there will be a sure cure; it will make a big noise in the world when it comes.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

Los Angeles Clericus.

The members of the Los Angeles Crericus of the Episcopal Church held their regular meeting Monday at the pleasant home of the Rev. Dr. Dowling, in Passadena. The car "Poppy" was provided for the use of the members, and the trip through the beautiful country was made more enjoyable by the fresh verdure of the hills after the rain. A paper was read by the Rev. W. H. Dyer on the question, "Why are There so Many Defections from the Faith?" A general discussion followed, which brought out a great variety of opinion and some helpful suggestions. A bountiful luncheon was served.
